INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT

International application No. PCT/EP99/08480

I. Basis of the report

1. This report has been drawn on the basis of (substitute sheets which have been furnished to the receiving Office in response to an invitation under Article 14 are referred to in this report as "originally filed" and are not annexed to the report since they do not contain amendments (Rules 70.16 and 70.17).):

Description, pages:

1-20 as originally filed

Claims, No.:

1-11 as originally filed

2. With regard to the language, all the elements marked above were available or furnished to this Authority in the language in which the international application was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

These elements were available or furnished to this Authority in the following language: , which is:

- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of the international search (under Rule 23.1(b)).
☐ the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:
☐ the claims, Nos.:
☐ the drawings, sheets:

5. ☐ This report has been established as if (some of) the amendments had not been made, since they have been considered to go beyond the disclosure as filed (Rule 70.2(c)):

(Any replacement sheet containing such amendments must be referred to under item 1 and annexed to this report.)

6. Additional observations, if necessary:

V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Yes:	Claims	1-10
	No:	Claims	11
Inventive step (IS)	Yes:	Claims	1-10
	No:	Claims	11
Industrial applicability (IA)	Yes:	Claims	1-11
	No:	Claims

2. Citations and explanations see separate sheet

VIII. Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:
see separate sheet

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1). The document D4 (=EP-A-566118) was cited in the description but not in the international search report.

2). Art. 33 (2) PCT (Novelty) :

D4 discloses a process for the preparation of water-swellaable, water-insoluble modified polysaccharides comprising the steps of forming a mixture of a water-soluble modified polysaccharide, water and a crosslinking agent. The modified polysaccharide is recovered from said solution and heat-treated above 80 °C for a time sufficient to crosslink the modified polysaccharide. Modified polysaccharides suitable for use are cellulose, starch, chitin, carrageenan etc.

The preferred modified polysaccharide is a carboxyalkyl polysaccharide including carboxymethyl cellulose.

Suitable crosslinking agents are diamines or polyamines.

The crosslinking reaction occurs through amidation of the carboxyl group and over a broad pH range (see page 6, lines 2-8).

Samples 47-56 deal with these products.

The subject-matter of claim 11 is not novel in view of D4 and this is confirmed in the description of the present application on page 5, lines 6-9.

3). Art. 33(3) PCT (Inventive step) :

D4 represents the closest prior art.

The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from D4 in that the process comprises a step of activating the carboxy groups in an anhydrous aprotic solvent.

The problem to be solved is to provide a further process with a high degree of reproducibility for preparing crosslinked carboxylated polysaccharides.

The solution involves an inventive step since the available prior art does not give any suggestion or hint that it could have been possible to make the cross-linking reaction almost quantitative.

The subject-matter of claims 1-10 appears to involve an inventive step.

EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/EP99/08480

Re Item VIII

Certain observations on the international application

Art. 6 PCT :

1). Claim 2 mentions polyacrylic acids as an example of a polysaccharide. However this is unclear since the ordinary chemist will never recognize polyacrylic acids as belonging to the group of the polysaccharides.

2). The description mentions on page 4, line 21 the hemisuccinylation of the free hydroxy groups. However this forms no part of the claims.
This embodiment of the invention does not fall within the scope of the claims. This inconsistency between description and claims render said claims unclear.

☒ Patent family members are listed in annex.

* Special categories of cited documents:

- "A" document defining the general state of the art which is not considered to be of particular relevance
- "E" earlier document but published on or after the international filing date
- "L" document which may throw doubts on priority claim(s) or which is cited to establish the publication date of another citation or other special reason (as specified)
- "O" document referring to an oral disclosure, use, exhibition or other means
- "P" document published prior to the international filing date but later than the priority date claimed

"T" later document published after the international filing date or priority date and not in conflict with the application but cited to understand the principle or theory underlying the invention

"X" document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is taken alone

"Y" document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is combined with one or more other such documents, such combination being obvious to a person skilled in the art.
